Dear Sir:-

I have your letter of October 1st and in reply I beg to state that we have been sending our bronze Peace Medals on consignment to jewellers allowing them a discount of twenty-five per cent on copies sold. I should be perfectly willing to meet your request and place a number on sale with you but I feel it due you to explain in advance that the Peace Medal was offered by Messrs. Hennegen & Bates of your City for two months or more. They gave the medal a prominent place in their display windows, and I have reason to feel made every effort possible to stimulate the sale but with results that were very far from being encouraging. I assume that you did not know this when you made your suggestion, and if you still feel that you can sell copies of the medal I shall very gladly send them to you as I want to leave nothing undone which will make our handling of this medal a fair test of the possibilities in this country.

If you have leisure when you are next in New York I should much like to talk to you at our Museum and have you see our collection as well as obtain some knowledge of the aims and objects of our Society.

Very sincerely yours,

Secretary.

Dear Mr. Roe:

Thanks for your letter.

How many different-medals,
could you send us - if you only have one medal, this being worth the while.

I would like them at once.

Of course, I realize it will be hard to sell these medals,
now after they have been so well shown here in Baltimore, but if agreeable to you, I'll make the effort - It will give me

pleasure to call & see you
when I am in New York tho'
that is seldom.

With kindest remembrance ever,

Dear Sir:-

In response to your letter of October 4th, we have only one Peace Medal. You ask how many different medals you can send. If you mean how many copies, I can send you five or more on consignment, but if you mean how many varieties, there is but one as you have realized.

Most of our medals are offered for subscription to our members only. In the case of the Peace Medal it was decided to permit the sale of the bronze copies irrespective of membership. There might be a re-awakened interest in them if the treaty is signed by the Senate within a reasonable period but the sale has been interfered with from the beginning by the loss of interest due to the delay at Paris and the dissatisfaction with the treaty and the way it was published. Please let me have a further word from you - if you want them I shall gladly send you five medals on receipt of your reply.

Very truly yours,

Secretary.
